KILLED BY A TRAIN

SEYMOUR SWAUGER FOUND DEAD WEST OF BINGHAM.

Body Was Decapitated—Few Details Obtainable, and Particulars Can Only Be Surmised—Victim Was in Pendleton Yesterday — Swauger's Father Committed Suicide Less Than Two Years Ago—He was a Member of Several Fraternities.

The light engine ahead of No. 1 this morning at about 9:40 o'clock, Engineer Curtis in the cab, discovered, two and a half miles west of Bingham Springs, the body of Seymour Swauger, cut in pieces by some train or engine preceding. Immediate notification was given the authorities, and the body was removed to one side sufficiently to be avoided by the oncoming train, and to await the arrival of the coroner.

Little is known about the affair further than that the body was completely decapitated, and that one arm was severed from the body.

Mr. Swauger was in Pendleton yesterday, and whether he fell from a train while riding, or was run down last night while walking on the track in the darkness, may never be known.

Seymour Swauger was 47 years of age, born in Kansas, and came from Kansas to Kamela 14 years ago. For several years he was a coal heaver for the O. R. & N., at Kamela, and was a member during that time of a railroad union. Afterward he engaged in the wood and stock business at Kamela. About four years ago he moved from Kamela to a farm two miles west of North Fork station, and engaged in farming and stock raising. He leaves a wife and five children.

About 20 months ago Mr. Swauger's father, E. Swauger, while a resident of Kamela, suicided by taking morphine. His mother and a brother, also of Kamela, survive him.

He is reported by Bingham Springs and other friends to have been a member in good standing of several fraternal organizations.

Engineer Curtis states that one leg was cut entirely off, as well as an arm and the head. A peculiarity of the incident is that there did not remain on the body the slightest vestige of clothes. The only evidence that the body had been dragged was that the vest and some fragments of clothing were some distance away.

Mr. Curtis notified one section crew and Fireman Grayce the other, and the remains are in their charge at the scene of the accident, awaiting the arrival of the coroner, his jury, Deputy Sheriff Blakeley and the several witnesses.

The empaneled jury is as follows: C. C. Hendricks, T. E. Morgan, Captain Joseph Dunn, August Schmidt, Henry Laatz and E. T. Wade. They left for the scene of the accident on No. 24.

The Famous Delta Candies.

The Delta candy factory is gaining in fame throughout this section of the state for its delicious bonbons, candies and taffy. The Delta manufactures its own chocolate creams, bonbons, taffy, etc., and it is pure and has an especially pleasing taste. Mr. Irwin, the proprietor of the Delta, has made a success of his candy factory here because of his up-to-date methods and his wide experience in this line, which serves him well in knowing what the public desires.

Pendleton people should feel proud of its home institution and extend to it the liberal patronage it deserves.

Will Invest Next Spring.

Judson Truman, of Decorah, Iowa, and his brother-in-law, Wesley West, of Trimble, Iowa, arrived this morning and were met by the latter's brother, George J. West, of John Day, and will spend a few weeks in the interior. Their intention is to return about Thanksgiving and visit with the Wests and Youngs, near Milton for some time, making tours from that neighborhood into the different portions of Umatilla and Walla Walla counties. They now intend to invest in farming lands in the spring.

Prospectors From Arkansas.

A. A. Davis, principal of the Berryville, Ark., city schools, is here, arriving in time to attend the closing sessions of the institute. He was joined here this morning by his brother, E. C. Davis, a business man of Eureka Springs, Ark. Together they will tour the Northwest with the intention of investing and of locating—the one in business and both in lands. A. A. Davis is highly pleased with this place.

SOCIETY EVENTS

The convention held in Pendleton this week by the teachers of the Inland Empire, has been the center of attraction, and little in a social way has been attempted. Many wished to take advantage of the good addresses offered by the prominent speakers, and they certainly have gone from our midst leaving behind good food for thought. The teachers of our public schools have been very active and untiring in their efforts, in the entertainment of their guests. The reception tendered to the visitors at Music hall on Wednesday evening, proved to be one of the most pleasant events of the week. Here cordial greetings were extended to one and all. By the receiving party who were selected from the various literary clubs of the city. They were Mesdames C. J. Smith, N. Starkweather, Edwin Switzer, Alice Sheridan, William Furnish, John Halley and C. E. Colesworthy. The young ladies of the senior class assisted in serving ices and punch.

A Pleasant Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise party was given to Miss Hazel Sheek last Saturday evening at her home, 319 Thompson street, by a number of her friends.

The hall and dining room were decorated with Chinese lanterns, ferns and autumn leaves.

Refreshments were served by Misses Maude McCarthy, Flora Sheek and Faye Gibson. The evening was spent with games, music and social conversation. Those present were: Misses Maude McCarthy, Flora Sheek, Mable Canard, Bessie Marsh, Florence Davis, Winnie Boylen, Gertrude Huffman, Gall Huffman, Beatrice Wilkins, Edna Cook, Faye Gibson, Ruth Gibson, Hazel Berkley, Gale Sturdivant, Forest Baker, Glen Storie, Glen Sturdivant, Nat Kimball, Willie Penland, Clinton Buzan, Eddie Ellis, Tracy Bean and Tommie Boylen.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS

The advantages of fall meetings of the state federation were plainly visible at the meeting of the Woman's Club of Pendleton last Tuesday.

The members of the club were out in good numbers, those who went to the annual meeting at Baker City ready to tell of the federation's outline of work, and those who stayed at home, ready to hear.

Mrs. E. T. Wade, Mrs. J. Halley, Jr., and Mrs. Moorhouse gave interesting reports.

The federation will continue its work under the Education, Traveling Library, Domestic Science, Legislative and Civic committees; these lines of work are already familiar to our clubs, for the Pendleton clubs have always been active workers and are well posted in federation matters. Mrs. John Halley, Jr., has made for herself a high place in federation councils by her able leadership on the education committee. Her name was mentioned to fill an important office on the state board, but the board, while fully appreciating how much her efficient work would mean to the board, unanimously agreed that she could not be spared from her important committee. Several resolutions were referred to the committee on education to be added to its work this year.

The federation voted to co-operate with the state association of charities and the resolutions relating to legislative work were referred to the legislative committee.

A bulletin of the proceedings of the convention will be published immediately by the secretary, and sent to each club, and before long the state committees will be heard from, and the work will be undertaken with new interest. An industrial committee, and a committee on forestry were added to the standing committees.

Mrs. S. A. Evans was appointed first vice-president of the state federation, and Mrs. Kate Bingham, secretary. Mrs. Dunne of Eugene, was also made auditor. These vacancies on the state board had occurred during the year on account of the illness of Mrs. Elmore, first vice president and of Mrs. Sheldon, of Eugene, the auditor and the removal from the state of Mrs. Hattie E. Young, of Grant's Pass, who was elected secretary at Astoria. There was no election of officers at Baker City, existing vacancies only being filled.

The convention was a great success in all respects and second to none ever held. The next meeting will be in October, 1905, at Eugene.

The local clubs postponed their meetings this week on account of the teachers' convention, excepting the Woman's Club, that meeting coming before the arrival of the teachers. New officers were elected and a good outline of work for the coming year was fully discussed, every member taking part in the discussions.

The officers elected were: Mrs. T. C. Taylor, president; Mrs. J. Halley, Jr., vice president; Mrs. M. A. Dissoway, secretary, and Mrs. Horace Stillman, treasurer. The next meeting will be Tuesday of next week, the regular meetings will be as usual, the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month at the Commercial Club rooms.

The club under the new board consists of the officers with Mrs. T. C. Taylor, Mrs. G. A. Hartman, Sr., and Mrs. T. C. Taylor as executive committee, looks forward to a most prosperous year.

DRAWING COLOR LINE.

Itinerant Colored Evangelist Takes Exceptions to Christian Methods.

Rev. David Swackhammer, an itinerant colored man, who claims to be a lecturer and preacher, is deeply offended because he has not been accorded a hearing in Pendleton, and writes the East Oregonian the following scathing letter on Christian unity: "Is right for christians to draw the color lines in church or any Where in the land where there is christianity did christ Teach it while here on Earth and does he mean for us as serv Servant to teach I want to say that if the church of this Land would not teach so much of their doctrine and preach Amore of the bible they will find that there would be more converted in the way for christ than is now I want you to To look into God word and see dont the bible teach us to be One except you be as one you cannot see the Kingdom of God.

Golden Rule Store.

By mistake of the factory the Golden Rule Store has about three times as many golf gloves as were ordered. Rather than return them, it has been decided by a big reduction in price to close them out. You ought to see the 50c values they are offering for 25c, and the 75c values which go for 45c.

Mules Missing.

Two brown horse mules are missing from the Tulloch ranch, northwest of Pendleton. One weighs 1600 pounds and the other 1300; no brands. Finder notify J. M. Bentley of Tulloch & Sons, on the Beard ranch, and be rewarded.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to thank the friends and neighbors, the Order of Washington, and the members of the Methodist church for their many acts of kindness shown during the illness and in the death of my wife.

GARRY JUDSON.

PENDLETON LEADS WORLD.

In competition against the American Woolen Company, known as the woolen mill trust, and the manufacturers of woolen fabrics throughout the world, the Pendleton Woolen Mills has been awarded the grand prize at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, Charles J. Ferguson, lessee and manager of the Pendleton Woolen Mills, this morning received a message from his representative at St. Louis, of the award. The products exhibited by Ferguson consist of Indian robes, bed blankets, shawls and steamer rugs. "The exhibit was taken from the shelves at the mill," said Mr. Ferguson, "with-out much care as to selection and were hurried to the fair."

The message stated that the award still lacked the official confirmation by President Francis, but that his signature would be received within a week. It is not known just how many mills were in the competition. The trust embraces more than 40 different plants and the products of these were displayed in an elaborate manner. The large California mills were also represented in the competition.
